I. Introduction

1) Background

The Child-Friendly Justice European Network (CFJ-EN) was set up in April 2019 by Defence for Children International Belgium (DCI-Belgium) as an informal Network. Its founding Members were the European Sections of Defence for Children International. The CFJ-EN is currently composed of 31 members across 20 European countries. The idea to set up a European Network specialised on child friendly justice came as a direct response to the numerous observations and needs assessments made by various lead organisations active in the field of child friendly justice in Europe. In 2022, thanks to the financial support of the European Commission (EC) through an Operating Grant, the CFJ-EN was officially launched as a fully operational formal Network established through DCI-Belgium. In 2023, the CFJ-EN's activities continued to flourish, supported by the European Commission, and they aim to persist throughout 2024 and beyond, solidifying their commitment to their mission.

2) Objective of the Sub-Granting Call

The objective of the sub-granting call is to build the capacities of children and young people to express their voices on matters concerning them when in contact with justice systems.

The CFJ-EN's 2023-2025 Strategic Plan includes among its 4 strategic priorities, Strategic Priority 1: 'Strengthening Children's Agency'. The CFJ-EN aims to empower children to have their rights respected in judicial proceedings, to collect in a participatory manner their voices and make them heard, and to build their capacity to become advocates of their own rights. The purpose of the sub-granting scheme is to allow two to three CFJ-EN member organisations to engage with children and young people with experience with the justice system in advocacy and campaigning initiatives related to child friendly justice, via setting up of Young Justice Transformers (YJT) Groups in the country they are based in.

The YJT will gather children and young people from several European countries for regular activities at national level as well as at European level. This sub-granting will therefore allow a core specific objective of the Network (building the capacities of children and young people) to be adequately resourced, whilst providing an opportunity for members to enter a competitive process and propose relevant activities, thus encouraging innovation and best practices.

Building on the positive results of 2023, in 2024, the sub-granting scheme aims at giving the opportunity to other CFJ-EN Members to further empower young people in contact with justice systems and participate in the Caravan to meet European policy makers in Strasbourg.

3) What is a Young Justice Transformer Group?

Young Justice Transformer Groups are groups of children and young people aged 12 up to 24 years old, set up and accompanied by a member organisation of the CFJ-EN. At the national/local level, the YJT groups shall be involved in activities of special interest for children and young people and for their host organisation. At the European level, YJT shall participate in activities with a broader geographical and thematic scope.

A- Profile of YJT members

The YJT groups shall be composed of approx. 5-10 children and young people aged between 12 and 24, who have been in contact with the justice systems as a child (civil, administrative, or criminal) – or who have a strong interest in justice systems. Indicatively, children and young people will participate in the YJT group for 9 to 12 months (renewable). In particular, YJT groups shall include:

- Children/young people who have been involved in criminal proceedings as a child, including suspected/accused/convicted of crime, victims and/or witnesses
- Children/young people who have been involved in administrative proceedings as a child, including migration and asylum proceedings
- Children/young people who have been involved in civil proceedings as a child, including family matters, institutional care, adoption, and guardianship proceedings
- Family members of children who have been involved in judicial proceedings
- Law and human rights students with an interest in child friendly justice

While it is desirable that groups are heterogeneous at the national level, member organisations remain free to select YJTs depending on national issues, priorities, and interests. Each national group will define its preferred focus themes and roadmap.

B- Benefits for Young Justice Transformers

Children and young people participating in these groups will have the opportunity to:

1. Gain experience as human rights defenders through human rights education and training, and as trainers for other children and young people in their local context, while contributing to increasing the impact of the CFJ-EN.
2. Connect with children and young people from different backgrounds in Europe, gain mutual knowledge and strengthen cooperation, discuss gaps and challenges of child friendly justice and share ideas and suggestions.
3. Share their aspirations and ideas with high-level national and European policymakers in a two-way discussion that ensures mutual respect.
4. Participate in the development of the CFJ-EN by voicing their concerns and priorities in relation to making justice systems more accessible in European countries.

6) Ethics

A- General Considerations

Child friendly justice has its sources in international law, mainly in the Convention on the Rights of the Child (CRC). In addition, there is a multitude of legal norms and instruments (hard law), as well as guidelines, principles, standards and case law (soft law) developed by the United Nations, the Council of Europe and the European Union that relate to child friendly justice.

The work of the CFJ-EN is therefore enshrined in the CRC, including in the international standards and principles applicable to child friendly justice, and in particular in the fundamental principles of dignity, protection from discrimination, rule of law, best interests of the child, and child participation. In Europe, the Guidelines of the Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe on Child friendly Justice are a very important instrument where these principles are explained.

Applicants are expected to conform to the highest ethical standards, particularly those set in:

- The EU Charter of Fundamental Rights
- The EU acquis on children's rights, in particular Directive 2016/800 on procedural safeguards for children and Directive 2012/29/EU on Victim's rights
- The EU Strategy on the Rights of the Child
- The CoE Strategy on the Rights of the Child
- The CoE Guidelines on Child Friendly Justice
- Article 2 of the Treaty on the European Union and Article 21 of the EU Charter of Fundamental Rights and
- Other applicable EU, international and national law (including the General Data Protection Regulation 2016/679).

B- EU Values

Applicants should commit to conform to standards of gender equality, inclusivity, and non-discrimination, and to being consistent with principles of child and adolescent development.

Projects must in particular seek to promote gender equality and non-discrimination mainstreaming in accordance with the Gender Mainstreaming Toolkit. Project activities should contribute to the equal empowerment of women/girls and men/boys in all their diversity, ensuring that they achieve their full potential and enjoy the same rights. They should also seek to reduce levels of discrimination suffered by particular groups (as well as those at risk of multiple discrimination) and to improve equality outcomes for individuals. Proposals should integrate gender and non-discrimination considerations in proposals and target a gender-balanced representation in project teams and activities. It is also important that individual data collected by the beneficiaries are broken down by sex, disability or age whenever possible.

C- Child Safeguarding and Protection

Applicants commit to apply strict ethical standards not to compromise the privacy, wellbeing and integrity of children in contact with the justice system. Applicants must moreover have a child protection and safeguarding policy (CPSP) covering the four areas described in the Keeping Children Safe Child Safeguarding Standards. This policy must be available online and transparent to everyone who comes in contact with the organisation. It must include clear information about the recruitment of staff (including trainees and volunteers) and include background checks (vetting). It must also include clear procedures and rules to staff, including reporting rules, and continuous training

Youth facilitators running the child advisory boards will undergo child protection and safeguarding training. They will also be trained on communication with children, child safeguarding principles and gender equality.

Particular attention will be given to ensure ethical principles are respected during the selection of children and young people to participate in the child advisory boards. Participant's consent will be carefully sought using a consent form, including where required the consent of their parent/legal representative. While commitment will be asked from participants, any child participating shall be absolutely free to leave the group at any time.

Personal information and media files concerning children will not be accessible to the general public and will be kept in a secure and access-restricted folder. In no circumstances shall children's data be shared to unauthorised persons or the general public without prior and informed consent of the child and, if appropriate their legal guardians and in compliance with the European Union's General Data Protection Regulation.

D- Non-Discrimination and Inclusion

The selection of children and young people will be conducted in an open, transparent, child friendly and non-discriminatory manner by each organisation. The CFJ-EN firmly believes that all children have a right to develop themselves to the full extent of their capacity and personality, at their own pace, including children with a disability and from an ethnic or religious minority, no matter their sex, gender, sexual orientation or cultural background.

Above all, the facilitators will pay the utmost attention to maintaining an atmosphere of sharing and respect and giving a space for each child to express themselves and listen to their peers from different backgrounds.

The CFJ-EN expects grantees to abide by equal employment opportunity provisions. The applying organisation shall not discriminate against any employee or applicant for employment because of race, colour, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin. They shall take affirmative action to ensure all staff are treated without regard to their race, colour, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, or national origin.

4) Review committee

Once project proposals have been submitted and the call has closed, the Operational Team of the CFJ-EN will be in charge of sending applications to the pre-appointed Review Committee, and to organise one or several meetings for the selection of awarded projects.

In order to ensure impartiality of the decision, a review of the eligible proposals received will be made by a collegial review committee. A procedure has been put in place to avoid any conflict of interests in the composition of the Review Committee. We have therefore prepared a short questionnaire to conduct COI checks for the experts who will be invited to join the Review Committee.

Potential conflicts of interest during the selection procedure will be avoided as follows:

- a. CFJ-EN Steering Committee members who are interested in applying to the call will not be eligible to integrate the Review Committee
- b. CFJ-EN Members who are interested in applying to the call will not be eligible to integrate the Review Committee
- c. During the evaluation process, discussions in the Steering Committee in relation to the Sub-granting scheme will be done without the participation of CFJ-EN members who might have applied or are considering applying to the call.
- d. The external expert who will be invited to the Review Committee should not have any involvement in one of the current CFJ-EN. This therefore excludes experts who are for example part of the governance structures of CFJ-EN members at national or international levels.
- e. As recipient of the Operating Grant, DCI Belgium is excluded from submitting a proposal to the Call as CFJ-EN Member.

V. Sub-granting - contractual aspects

1) Implementation modalities

If a project is selected, the grantee will sign a sub-granting agreement with DCI Belgium after prior approval by the EU. Should the sub-grantee fail to implement the approved activities and with a view to achieving the objectives laid down therein, a recovery order of the sub-granted amount should be enforced. Note that the EU does not acknowledge any contractual link between itself and the sub-grantee.

This sub-grant agreement will set the framework for the grant and its terms and conditions, in particular concerning deliverables, reporting and payments.

The sub-grant agreement shall define responsibilities of the sub-grantee regarding personal taxes, social and related benefits for the personnel working under the grant.

During the audit of actions with sub-granting, an external auditor shall verify the expenditures of each sub-grant Beneficiary and ensure that the activities involved are in line with those of the EC grant contract. Furthermore, the auditor should verify the eligibility of the costs incurred by the sub-grant Beneficiary, the respect of the zero-VAT issues and the use of the correct exchange rates as per the provisions under the EC grant contract. The Beneficiary should keep copies of all supporting documents related to sub-grants for the period as specified in the General Conditions of the EC grant contract (5 years following final payment by the commission). As for the sub-grant Beneficiaries original copies should be kept for the same period.

B- Visibility

Any materials and results from this project should carry the logo of the CFJ-EN and a short note on the Network and its involvement in the project. Please refer to the CFJ-EN Brand Guidelines (see annex).
